

Hand drawn animation is the most classic 2D animation technique and is incredibly easy for all ages to try. This type of animation was used for most of Disney's classic films, from Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs in 1937 to Winnie the Pooh in 2011.

Usually, hand drawn animations begin as a storyboard where drawn images help to write the script for the animation. Storyboarding is a great way of laying out even a complicated plot in an easy to follow way.

All you need is a supply of our handy classroom printables, some pens or pencils and your imagination! With a little bit of artistic flair, you can have fun creating a really beautiful hand drawn animation.
