

For puppet animation, you use puppets as your main characters, moving them slightly between shots. This technique was adopted by top Hollywood director Tim Burton in his classic film the Nightmare Before Christmas.

Puppets are great props to use as characters as they are easy to animate and you can give them lots of personality. You don't even have to use classic Marionette puppets; you can create your own hand, finger or even sock puppets.

You could create some pirate finger puppets and produce your very own pirate adventure!

Idea! Create an animation of your hand, with a different finger puppet on each finger!